Janice Ong

Ms. Janice Ong is the founder of Presto Studios. With extensive experience in the music industry spanning several years, she has a profound understanding of the hurdles that musicians often faced.

Presto Studios was established as a testament to her passion for nurturing individuals. Her vision is to empower and offer aspiring learners and young minds a wholesome and nurturing music education. Additionally, her aim is to ignite a lifelong love for music and foster a deep passion for lifelong learning.

With over two decades of teaching experience, there are numerous students who have achieved stellar results under her guidance. Some of her students have graduated with a diploma in piano performance while there were others who have moved on to pursue music studies or continued the journey as a music teacher.

Teacher Janice is adept at diagnosing and providing effective solutions to help students overcome learning obstacles in all areas. With her strong background in music pedagogy, she is efficacious in communicating concepts with flair and is authoritative in demonstrating concepts, techniques and processes. Beyond these, Ms. Janice Ong strongly believes that the best teachers teach with their hearts, not just by the book.
