Alex Yap

Vocal and Group Class Teacher

Teacher Alex Yap brings a thoughtful and well-grounded approach to vocal training, shaped by his academic background and a Bachelor in Classical Music from UCSI University. Having mentored a wide range of students, many of whom have achieved top honours in vocal competitions, Alex focuses on building a foundation of strong technique and genuine musical expression.

His lessons are carefully structured to guide students in mastering breath control, tone clarity, and pitch accuracy while fostering the confidence to perform on stage. With a background in leadership and coaching, Alex places a strong emphasis on mentorship, helping students develop the discipline and positive mindset needed to find their own unique musical identity. At Presto Studios, he believes that music education is about more than singing well it is a tool for students to express themselves with clarity, purpose, and confidence.
