

Paulynn Yong

Piano & Guitar Teacher

Ms Paulynn Yong is a passionate music educator dedicated to helping beginners build strong musical foundations in a fun, engaging, and encouraging environment. With a background in education and healthcare, she brings patience, empathy, and a thoughtful approach that helps students develop confidence while enjoying the learning journey.

She holds a Bachelor of Science (Honours with Merit) from the National University of Singapore and an Advanced Certificate in Technical Education Pedagogy. Currently pursuing a Master's degree in Music Therapy, Paulynn is committed to continually expanding her knowledge of how music supports learning, development, and well-being.

As an educator, Paulynn has experience designing curriculum, mentoring students, and delivering engaging lessons that inspire curiosity and meaningful progress. She teaches beginner piano and guitar, tailoring each lesson to the individual learning needs of every student while creating a positive and supportive learning experience.

Beyond teaching, Paulynn is a multi-instrumentalist with experience in classical and acoustic guitar, piano, and drums. She believes music is more than learning an instrument - it is a journey that nurtures confidence, creativity, discipline, and a lifelong appreciation for music.
